ENVIRONMENTAL DISPUTE RESOLUTION FUND COMMUNITY LEGAL ACTION GRANT (STAGE 2)

Stage 2 Grant Overview

What is a Stage 2 Community Legal Action Grant?

This is a grant of up to $12,000 for legal support for groups taking strategic action to address significant environmental challenges in their communities (we call this a “campaign”). We award a small number of larger “community legal action” grants to groups that are able to build a base of support, and where appropriate pursue legal work alongside other tools and strategies – political and market pressures, community organizing, education—to achieve a clear environmental objective. We expect that in stage two, legal activities will focus on more complex or extended negotiations, court, or tribunal work.

What does the EDRF fund?

The EDRF is intended to be a source of support for the legal component of your public interest environmental campaign—that is, the hourly fees and hard costs of a lawyer, an expert professional (where the expert’s work is a necessary complement to the legal work), or a mediator/facilitator (where all parties have agreed to alternative dispute resolution). We fund hourly fees of up to $80/hr, which is similar to a legal aid rate and well below the rates of most commercial lawyers and experts. Unless the EDRF has granted special permission, expenses under a grant must be incurred by the lawyers or experts directly, as outlined in an approved budget.

What if a Stage 2 Grant will not cover all the costs of my campaign?

A Stage 2 grant is not intended to cover the full cost of the legal work for your campaign. Most likely, you will need to commit to a broader fundraising effort to cover the full cost. Your application should clearly outline your fundraising plan, and list your expected sources of funding. Stage 2 applicants must raise a minimum of 30% of your budget, even when the grant will cover your anticipated legal costs. We call this a “client contribution” and ask you to pay this as a percentage of each of your lawyer or expert’s invoices.

What does the EDRF not fund?

We do not fund your clerical or administrative expenses. While we encourage community education and organizing, we do not fund the costs of this work. The Fund will not provide grants to pay for: (a) a private litigant’s liability for an adverse cost award; (b) the purchase of land; or, (c) defense against contempt proceedings arising from civil disobedience.

Application Checklist

Please use the following checklist to ensure that your application is complete:

1. Stage 2 Application Form

Please refer to your Stage 1 Application Form (if relevant) and provide updated answers to all questions in this application form. You may use point form

- Your signature on the last page of the application

2. Budget

- Budget signed off on by your lawyer(s) and expert(s)

3. Lawyer's Reporting Letter

- Lawyer's reporting letter from your stage one grant
- If this is your first application, your lawyer's letter of support should provide detail on legal advice or work already given

4. Lawyer's Letter of Support

The letter of support is a statement of your lawyer's willingness to work on your case under certain terms and conditions. The letter must contain the following:

- A statement of the hourly rate, which must meet EDRF terms and conditions (see FAQs) and an estimate of the overall legal costs. If the nature of your project makes it difficult to estimate the number of legal hours required, provide possible scenarios.
- An overview description of the legal work to be performed under grant funds, and how it will advance your campaign objective
- For any litigation, a brief description of the legal issues and process (e.g. court or tribunal), along with an estimate of the likelihood of success
- A statement of the names and roles of all legal professionals working on the file

5. Expert Information (if applying for funding for one or more experts)

- Expert resume(s)
- Scope of work that describes the expert work to be performed under grant funds with a statement of the hourly rate, which must meet EDRF terms and conditions (see FAQs)

6. Additional Materials

- Letters of support from key institutions or coalition partners for your campaign strategy and your role as funding liaison
- News clippings that demonstrate the significance of the environmental issue, its public interest nature, a high degree of community support and any key partnerships
- Maps and diagrams as relevant
